Star of the Week

NOEL HARRISON (Charles). Noel Harrison is that debonair, charming, handsome man of today who lives and performs with the ease and grace he inherits from his theatrical background. To say that he has a famous father is putting it mildly. But to say that he has made it on his own is putting it emphatically. His innate ability to master singing, dancing, acting and performing in all media, and also to delve into the art of composing has made him a popular performer of considerable stature. He has had highly successful engagements at the "hungry i" in San Francisco and the Living Room in New York. In 1965 he recorded his first single hit record, "A Young Girl," and has since become a popular recording star. His latest album is "The Great Electric Experience" on which most of the songs he performs were written by himself. Mr. Harrison has been successful in movies, television and on stage. His movies include "The Best of Enemies" with David Niven; "Agent 8½"
